

Dr. John Clark of Boston

1727 March 15 (Wednesday). In the Evening I was at Mr. Greenwoods Lecture which was upon Projectile Motion. I can't but Conclude these Exercises by Experiments are the most beneficial as they Reduce all to Sensible Demonstration. When I return'd I went in with Mr. Greenwood to Dr. Clarks. [Not clear whether this was John or William.]

1742 September 9 (Thursday). Mr. Forb. and Thomas at the Chimney. John Hicks brought home my young Cattle from Grafton. N.B. Deacon Langdon of Boston and his Wife, and Dr. John Clark their Neighbour returning from Leicester, called to See me. I rode with them as far as Lt. Nathan Brighams of Southborough.
